▶ Not just text session logs – get video analysis

Ekran System allows you to record all user sessions on target endpoints. Ekran uses a session video format that's easy to interpret. Whether it's an authorized, compromised, or backdoor account session and no matter the level of permissions, all sessions are fully recorded and all action context is captured.
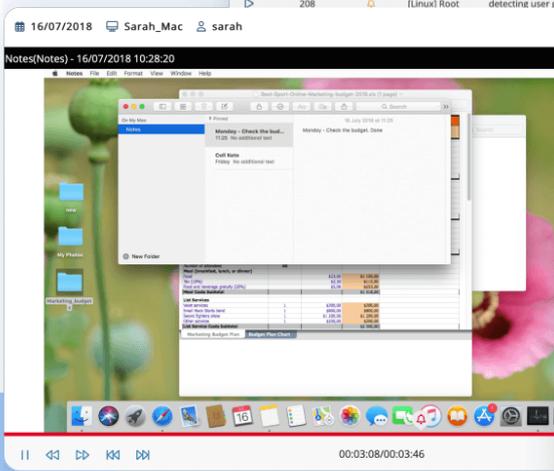

Screen video recording

Each user session is recorded with configurable video quality. Recording can be triggered and filtered or include each second from session start to finish. IP-based and username-based record filtering options are available.

A YouTube-like player with Live Session View options enables effortless analysis.
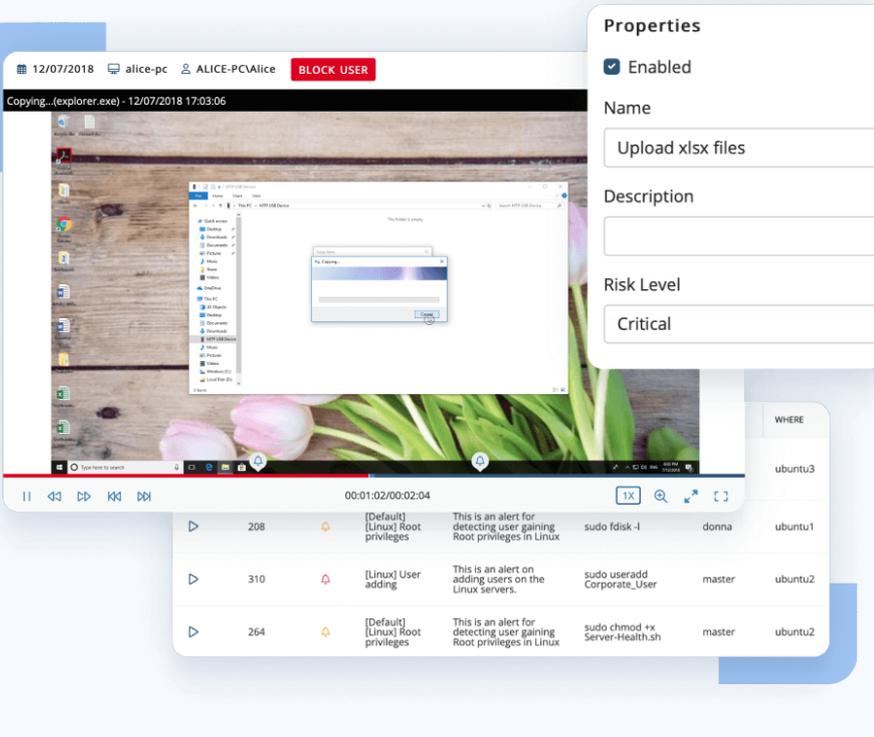

In-video episode search

Ekran System enables search by various parameters (name of the active application, visited URL, command entered, or even text typed) within the current session and across all recorded sessions. Search even extends to the content of uploaded scripts.

Context-rich recordings

Unlike basic screen monitoring software, Ekran System captures a number of additional employee activity logs used to index session video records: current application name, opened URLs, executed Linux commands, keystrokes, and more. Metadata facilitates session analysis, user activity monitoring, search, alerting, and reporting.
